realistic! AS A STEREO PICTURE

The naturalness of Lucitone doesn't depend on surface color alone. Like the stereo picture, there is lifelike depth to its realism. In the mouth, Lucitone, because it is translucent, accepts the contribution of the living tissue it conceals—becoming truly lifelike and undetectable.

That is why dentists, patients and laboratory technicians say, "Lucitone knows how to keep a secret—naturally."

ADAPTABILITY

The reproduction in Trubyte New Hue Teeth of the color characteristics and blendings found in natural teeth is the result of years of research. In one phase of this research alone, 10,000 natural teeth were examined in the mouth by the unerringly accurate spectrophotometer.

Like natural teeth, Trubyte New Hue Teeth adapt themselves to mouth and gum tissues, various complexions and changing light.

Chicago Dental Society Announces Its Fourth Annual Prize Essay Competition

Author of Best Essay in this National Competition Will Receive Cash Award of $500.00

For the fourth consecutive year the Chicago Dental Society is offering a cash prize of $500.00 to the author of the essay reporting an original investigation containing new and significant material of value to dentistry which is judged the most meritorious of the competitive essays submitted. The object of the contest is to continue to encourage scientific research in all phases of dentistry.

The winner of the award will be invited to present his essay at the 81st Midwinter Meeting of the Chicago Dental Society to be held in Chicago during February 1945. Expenses of the winner will be paid by the Society and will be in addition to the prize of $500.00.

Any member of the American Dental Association, or of a recognized foreign dental society, or anyone affiliated with a recognized institution in the dental field may apply for authorization to enter the competition. The contest is not limited to research men having technical staffs and elaborate equipment at their disposal, but is open to any qualified person who believes he has something new and important to contribute to dentistry. The rules are simple and fair and all contestants, whether students, teachers or practitioners, have an equal opportunity.

Application forms and contest rules may be obtained by writing to the Chicago Dental Society, 30 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago 2, Illinois. All applications to participate must be filed in the office of the Society by October 2, 1944.

PREVIOUS WINNERS

The first contest was held in 1942 and was won by Dr. Leroy E. Kurth for his essay on "Mandibular Movements in Mastication." That year a second prize was given which was awarded to Dr. Hermann M. Becks of California for his essay on "Dangerous Consequences of Vitamin D Overdosages on Dental and Paradental Structures." In 1943 it was decided that only one cash prize be given but that honorable mention be made of any other entries which, in the opinion of the judges, merited recognition. In that year's competition Drs. Harry H. Shapiro and Raymond C. Truex of New York City won the cash prize with their paper which was entitled "The Temporomandibular Joint and Auditory Function." Three essays received honorable mention as follows: Dr. Joseph P. Weinmann of Chicago for his paper on "Regeneration of Ameloblasts"; Dr. J. T. Gore of Philadelphia for his essay on "Individual Susceptibility to Dental Caries"; and Drs. Isaac Schour and Maury Massler of Chicago for their essay

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

WHEN SHOULD ORTHODONTIC TREATMENT BE STARTED?

L. B. HIGLEY, D.D.S., Department of Orthodontics, The State University of Iowa, Iowa City, Iowa*

Question: What type of case should be corrected in the deciduous dentition?

Answer: When to treat undoubtedly necessitates as broad a background of orthodontic knowledge as any problem that confronts the orthodontist. It must be remembered too that treatment is not similar for all cases but ranges from advice to complicated mechanical or surgical procedures. Most cases during the deciduous or early mixed dentition stages will permit an observation period during which the etiology may be determined more accurately than if treatment is instituted immediately. Also the rate of change, either toward improvement or increased severity of the deformity, may be judged. Some cases need immediate treatment¹ and no observation period is indicated. However, for the more usual cases, after a suitable observation period, the following types of deformities should be treated in the deciduous denture stage:

a. Cases in which an etiologic factor is discovered which if not eliminated will produce or enhance an incipient deformity.

b. Cases in which caries or accident has caused early loss of deciduous teeth.

c. Cases in which roentgenograms have shown that certain permanent teeth are not forming.

d. Cases in which incorrect tooth relationships may lead to deformity of the osseous support, especially if it would extend to include the basal bone.

e. Cases in which incorrect tooth relationships cause the mandible to shift forward, backward or to one side into a convenience bite.

Question: What type of case should be corrected in the mixed dentition?

Answer: The conditions enumerated for the deciduous dentition would also apply to the mixed dentition but in addition the following conditions peculiar to this stage of dental development should be treated, as:

a. Cases in which the first permanent molars or certain bicuspid are locking incorrectly with the teeth of the opposing dental arch.

b. Removal of supernumerary teeth. (Occasionally necessary in the deciduous dentures.)

c. Cases in which close bite shows no improvement as the permanent teeth erupt.

Question: What type of case should be corrected after the bicuspid and canines have erupted?

Answer: This question might be answered facetiously by saying only such cases as we have been unfortunate enough not to have seen previously. All the conditions mentioned in the answers to questions 1 and 2 would be treated at this time except for those not applicable to this stage of dental development. However, the only deformity that may be put off until this stage is one confined entirely to malocclusion of the teeth and which does not materially affect the supporting or basal bone.

Some cases, especially certain types of Class II Angle in which the basal bone is not deformed, respond well to treatment when it is possible to include the bicuspid and canines in the application of the corrective device but since such cases usually do involve deformity of the basal bone, it is best not to put off treatment until this time.

Question: Of what value are dental X-rays in determining the time of treatment?

Answer: Dental X-ray pictures are of value in a number of ways in determining the time for treatment. Caries, disclosed by them, should be cared for before treatment is attempted. If the X-ray pictures are taken early it may be found that certain permanent teeth are not forming and treatment may be indicated immediately. But, if the X-ray pictures are not taken until a later time, this absence of a permanent tooth will not be discovered and a different plan and perhaps a decidedly different time for treating the condition will be selected. The position and amount of development of certain permanent teeth and the resorption of deciduous roots will often influence the time of starting treatment. Alveolar bone structure, presence of supernumerary teeth, and the results of pathologic conditions of the investing tissues may also be seen and their influence upon treatment time judged.

Question: Of what value are cephalometric X-rays in determining the time of treatment?

Answer: Cephalometric roentgenograms are our best means of determining deformity that extends beyond malocclusion of the teeth. Usually it is best to start cases involving such deformity much earlier than if confined to the dental area alone. Among other things such roentgenograms disclose discrepancies in size and relationship of the various structures of the head that can be seen in no other way.

Question: What information that will be of value in treatment can be compiled by observing a case for some years previous to treatment?

Answer: Observation of a case previous to treatment will allow the operator to determine the etiology more accurately, decide whether the condition is improving or getting worse and at what rate, judge the interest of the parents and patient in having treatment and thus predict the cooperation that may be expected. All this will lead to the selection of the most opportune time to begin treatment.

Question: What factors other than those pertaining to the malocclusion influence your decision as to when treatment should be started?

Answer: Systemic conditions, rampant caries and other oral pathologic conditions influence the decision as to when treatment should be started. Oral pathology is usually a manifestation of a systemic condition which if not eliminated may make a satisfactory orthodontic result impossible. Indifference or lack of cooperation on the part of the parents, patient, or both may make it advisable to put off treatment. Availability of the patient is also important. The stage of dental development may allow or prevent treatment at a given time. The operator's time is also important as he should not attempt to treat more cases than he has time to devote to them.

Question: When is an intermittent plan of treatment desirable?

Answer: All early treatment should be intermittent. When possible the plan is to eliminate the etiology, correct the deformity, and establish natural conditions that will allow uniform growth, after which nature is permitted to work unhampered. In certain cases streamlined retainers may be needed between periods of active treatment. The hope is, and it is often realized, that a single early treatment may establish growth potentials that will suffice and no further treatment will be necessary. Attempts to stimulate growth beyond that expected for the patient's age should be avoided.

NEWS AND ANNOUNCEMENTS

SUGAR RESEARCH FOUNDATION FINANCES DENTAL STUDIES

The Sugar Research Foundation has announced five grants totaling $104,100.00 for studies on various phases of sugar research. Included in the project are two for the study of dental caries. One for $21,500.00 has been given to Dr. Julian D. Boyd, Associate Professor of Pediatrics, State University of Iowa College of Medicine, for study on dental caries in children. Another amounting to $25,000.00 has been awarded to Dr. Frederick J. Stare, Assistant Professor of Nutrition, Harvard Medical School, and Alfred L. Jonson, Dean of the School of Dental Medicine at Harvard University, for dental caries study using experimental animals.

MAILING DENTURES REQUIRES SPECIAL STAMP

Dentists who expect to mail dentures or prosthetic dental appliances to patients outside of this state are required under a ruling of the Post Office department in enforcing the recently approved Traynor bill to use a stamp or printed label on the outside of the package bearing the following inscription "Mailing not prohibited by Section 617½ of the Postal Laws and Regulations of 1940." Writing by hand or typewriting this inscription on the wrapper of the package does not comply with the regulations of the Post Office and parcels so endorsed will not be accepted for mailing by the department.

The office of the Chicago Dental Society has prepared a stamp that will comply with the requirements and will be happy to stamp packages for its members as a service, provided that the dentures or appliances to be mailed have been supplied as required by the laws of this state.

NEWS OF THE BRANCHES

NORTH SIDE

Dozens of our men kept away from their offices for four or five days around the Fourth. A number are taking extended vacations and should send in reports of fishing. Somebody should land a big one soon. A lack of gasoline keeps many at home but where could you find a finer vacation spot than right around our own city? . . . Orrin Baumgarth, a former North Side Branch correspondent, has been transferred from California to Chicago and now is at the Marine Hospital, in U. S. Public Health Service. . . . Lawrence Etu, one of our assistant correspondents is somewhere overseas. A report from him would be pleasing. . . . Harry Denen, a past-president of the North Side Branch, has an interesting article on Full Denture Impressions in the current issue of the Journal of The American Dental Association. Harry is in service in the U. S. Naval Hospital, Corpus Christi, Texas. . . . Congratulations and good wishes go to Walter Mayland and Mrs. Mayland who recently celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. . . . Leo Kremer's many friends will be pleased to learn that Mrs. Kremer has recently shown marked improvement in health. . . . We all regret that Fred Barich is quitting the branch correspondents' column but feel he is leaving the work in good hands, and to Waldo Urban we extend a hearty welcome.—Z. D. Ford, Branch Correspondent.

NORTH SUBURBAN

President Murray told me that there wasn't really much to writing a news column, and besides everybody would help by furnishing news items. (I am quoting him rather loosely.) I was inclined to classify his remarks with the type of thing that Mr. Willkie called campaign oratory but prudence compelled me to reserve judgment until a later date. I obtained a copy of the standing rules of the North Suburban Branch of the Chicago Dental Society, and under section 8, duties of committees, item (j), read the following paragraph: "Branch Correspondents—This committee shall submit announcements and news items concerning this Branch and its members to the editor of the official FORTNIGHTLY REVIEW for publication therein." It all sounds so simple. In my small copy of Webster's Dictionary news is defined as "a report of a recent event." Now if the membership will create the events, and as Murray said, everybody will help by supplying me with information, I will write it. . . . Recent events on hand: Charles Baker has gone up to his summer home on Tomahawk Lake, near Minocqua, Wisconsin, where he will spend two weeks contemplating woods, sky and water. He reports that he has received a letter from Capt. Leonard Munson, who is in Italy, north of Rome. Capt. Munson has been in the Army for about three years and has spent time in England and Africa. . . . Zenas Shafer has returned from Moose Lake, far away in Northern Minnesota, where in the company of Marshall Nilsson of the North Side and Jack Flanagan, president of Kenwood-Hyde Park, he has been beating the surface of six or eight lakes hunting the fish. I recall that a few years ago the muskellunge that he brought back from a similar pilgrimage, and which now hangs on a wall in his home, was the third largest taken that year.—Waldo Urban, Branch Correspondent.

NORTHWEST

The Republicans must have chased away the hot air for since they moved out a cool wave blew in. . . . If you haven't mailed that card to Irv Neer do so at once in order to secure a reservation for our annual outing on Wednesday, July 19, at Westward Ho Golf Club on Wolf Road just north of North Avenue. There will be something doing all day including pinochle, softball and perhaps a "little elbow-bending. Come on out and relax with us. . . . Lt. Sig Galaskiewicz is stationed at Camp Grant and so gets a chance to come in occasionally. . . . Lt. (Count) Potocki said to give his regards to all the boys. . . . Ed Kiwala is back in private practice after some months in the Army. . . . Our secretary, Ben Davidson, is hobnobbing with the elite these days as part of his working hours are spent downtown. Don't lose that common touch, Ben. . . . Joe Zielinski, president-elect, attended the A.D.A. Economics Committee meeting at Ann Arbor, Michigan. . . . Henry Boris, the perennial bachelor, is still at Norfolk but is now plugging cavities in the tusks of officers. . . . President and Mrs. Frank Biedka left for Ely, Minnesota. Frank packed his fishing gear in anticipation of hooking a few big ones. . . . Dan Klein, our effervescent program chairman, is commuting daily to his summer estate near Michigan City. Dan, a fellow with a million ideas, has perfected a system of planting saplings using a weighted divot. I planted my tomatoes the same way. What a system! Fast—and saves your back too. . . . Martin Juel's son was graduated from High School last month and has been inducted into the Army. . . . Both George Ulvestad's and Joe Gillmeister's boys are seeing the West through working in the U. S. Forestry Service for the summer months. . . . Harry and Mrs. Harnick celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary on June 8. Many happy returns on such an important milestone. . . . Max Ungar moved his office to the busy intersection at North and California Avenues. . . . Don't forget to mail that card to Irv Neer and we'll see you on the 19th at Westward Ho. — Thad Olechowski, Branch Correspondent.

WEST SIDE

The annual outing of the West Side Branch will be held at the Itasca Country Club on July 19. Come early in the morning so as to get in your game of golf, leaving plenty of time for other diversions, such as soft-ball, horseshoes and card playing. West Side members in uniform are invited to attend the outing free of charge, so don't hesitate to come out if in town or nearby. Members having difficulty in obtaining transportation kindly notify, as early as possible, either Leo Cahill, J. Vission, A. J. Sells, or Frank Kropik, who will try to make arrangements for sharing rides. . . . Sam Rakow has been advised by his physician to rest quietly at home. I'll bet the M.D. is just building him up for that strenuous poker game at our annual outing. All kidding aside, Sam, we West Side members wish you a speedy recovery, and hope that we may see you at the outing. . . . Sorry not to have mentioned the interesting clinic given by Joseph Porto at the Illinois State Meeting. Porto demonstrated the "Use of Acrylic Jacket Crowns for Proper Restoration of Esthetics in the Mouth for the General Practitioner." Also congratulations on being elected vice-president of the largest speakers organization in Chicago, The Chicago Speakers Forum. . . . As this column goes to press we read of the death of Henry Melichar's brother. The West Side members extend their deepest sympathy, Henry.—Frank J. Kropik, Branch Correspondent.

WEST SUBURBAN

A nice sum of money must have passed through the right hands to the weather man in compensation for the perfect day he gave us for our annual outing on June 21. Chairman Ed Sullivan assisted by Henry Westaby managed the affair in the very best style, expending a lot of effort trying to make everyone happy. They and their committee selected a fine golf course and arranged for an excellent steak dinner.

Floyd Adams of the North Side Branch won the putting contest. Kelly Frakes tied with a guest for Low Net and Ken Ladwig burned up the course to win a set of practice balls. Other prize winners included W. I. McNeil, Earl Crawshaw and Al Kunch. Courtland Bassett, and E. A. Lordahl were seen among the guests present. R. W. McNulty and W. I. McNeil were after dinner speakers. Lt. Art Skupa helped to serve at the 10th hole. Bob Humphrey, who had been entertaining a number of Convention guests in the afternoon, arrived at the Club in time for dinner. Bob Kesel, who was on vacation, came over from Aurora for the event. . . . John VanDenBrink hopes to move to Michigan if the State Board will admit him. . . . Edwin Lindmeier and family are vacationing at their summer home at Eagle River, Wisconsin. . . . Bernie Siegrist is fishing on Bass Wood Lake up near the Canadian border. . . . Lyle Filek and Ted Mosetick are stationed about one hundred miles apart and see each other quite often. They had such a hilarious time at their first meeting that when Lyle returned to his apartment he sold all his spiritus frumenti. He's a sorry officer today. Lyle labors about four or five hours and then has time for golf. Ted expects to be a proud daddy sometime in July. . . . Larry Creadon opened another office in Argo and commutes between there and Riverside. . . . Ed Moore and Ed Kritzke were handshaking the politicians at Oak Hill Country Club during the convention. . . . Winfield and Mrs. Fisher have just returned from a New York vacation. . . . E. L. and Mrs. Irish are planning a trip to Denver, Colorado, where they will visit his brother. . . . I am indebted to Edward Kritzke, Bob Pollock, Karl von der Heydt and E. J. Sullivan for much of this news.—Frederick W. Schulz, Assistant Branch Correspondent.

Question: Are the forming permanent teeth influenced by moving their deciduous predecessors?

Answer: Breitner² and others have shown experimental evidence that orthodontic movement of the deciduous or mixed dentition produced migration of underlying and adjoining tooth germs. Much clinical evidence supports these experimental findings. This means that expansion of the deciduous arches, when done properly, will have a lasting effect upon the permanent dental arches.

Question: When should the general practitioner refer the patient to the orthodontist?

Answer: Unless the general practitioner is thoroughly trained in orthodontic diagnosis it would be well for him to suggest that all child patients be examined by a competent orthodontist. This should be done at the first opportunity the general practitioner has to examine the child. In diagnosis the most difficult problem is to discover an etiologic factor that may initiate a deformity if not eliminated or to recognize a deformity in its incipient stage. After the deformity is advanced beyond the incipient stage it is usually discovered by the patient or his parents and the problem then becomes one of determining the extent and severity of the deformity and the proper time to begin treatment, if it is decided treatment will be worth while.

If the patient's condition is sufficiently advanced to be recognized by the general practitioner when he first has the patient brought to him, and he does not feel competent to cope with the situation it is obvious that the case should be referred to the orthodontist immediately if for no other reason than to shift the responsibility.

Are "Store Teeth" obsolete in dentistry?

Take a good look at the mouths of many patients who are wearing dental restorations.

Are the teeth natural-appearing?

Honestly, in many, many instances, they are not. Actually, they look as non-vital and unnatural as the teeth that were provided for patients twenty years ago.

Of course this need not be so because Austenal Teeth by the Micromold Process feel and look like natural teeth in the mouth. They have no metal parts and are lifelike in vitality, translucency, texture, form and appearance.
